WEDNESDAY MORNING SEPT 30 1863

The Object of Democratic Opposition to the War

The action of the recent Democratic Conventions in the East, and the distinct avowals of many presses of that party show that the determination has been formed to continue the war if possible till after the term of the present Administration To accomplish this every practicable obstacle to the vigorous prosecution of the war will be interposed and the utmost exertions made by obstructing the draft and otherwise to hinder the onward march of our armies to victory Indeed, nothing seems to give to the adherents of the party more satisfaction and joy, than tidings of defeat—nothing could be deemed more disastrous than news of glorious triumph

They seem not to care how many brave men die, how many hearts are wrung in anguish, how much treasure is wasted, or how deeply the nation is smitten if they can only secure the means to employ in bringing about a paltry party triumph But let them be warned —the day is rapidly coming, which shall bring them to a strict and solemn accountability The Union will be saved and its opponents—whether in arms or sneaking at home crying for peace, will be doomed to an eternity of infamy—a degree of shame and contempt beyond any ever known, for no offence like theirs has ever been committed against humanity and justice and national honor

WHY GOVERNOR SEYMOUR DOES NOT RESIST THE DRAFT —Able McMasters of New York city, addressed a Copperhead meeting at Dubuque, Iowa, on the 2d ult to which he said, as reported in the Daily Times of that city:

"He had been frequently asked, since he came here, why Seymour had not opposed the draft. He would say that the Governor had done all it was prudent to do In a short time there would be a convention held, which would adopt resolutions opposed to the war and against forcing people to fight If a man wanted to fight let him join the army, but no man should be forced to enter the service of the despots in power Gentlemen, Gov Seymour will act up to those resolutions

'It is not safe,' said the speaker, "to oppose the draft now New York is full of Federal bayonets We had a riot but the tax payers, many of whom are Democrats will have to pay for the destruction of property, and it will come hard on them As a question of brute force it is not policy to make war on the Government now We tried it once and it did not pay "—N Y Evening Post

COMMISSIONED —We learn from the Statesman that commissions have been issued by the Governor to the following officers of the Oregon Militia

Rufus Mallory, Lieut Col 2d regiment, 2d brigade

I W Case, Regimental Adjutant on staff of Col Eli Stewart, 2d regiment, 3d brigade

John Teal, Surgeon

Charles S Mills, Captain Co "B," 1st regiment, 2d brigade, W H Joyce 1st Lieutenant, Wm Young, 2d Lieutenant

E G Randall, Captain Co 'C,' 1st regiment, 2d brigade, T A Davis 1st Lieutenant, Mark A King, 2d Lieutenant

GERRIT SMITH'S SPEECH —We alluded yesterday to the position of this gentleman, and this morning publish on the outside, portions of a recent speech, as well to justify our own views, in which many Union men have not been willing to coincide with us, as to present an admirable argument in favor of the Government in endeavoring to suppress the rebellion We hope all our readers will peruse it

AN EPITAPH FOR SLAVERY —John W Forney, in a letter to the Philadelphia Press suggests the following epitaph for the "institution," when it shall have utterly perished

"Died by the hands of its friends who were mad enough to believe that because slavery had flourished and been tolerated in a land of liberty and law, slavery could therefore destroy both liberty and law'

By the Overland Press we learn that the steamer Enterprise is now making regular trips on the Sound, between Olympia and Victoria

A PLAIN ANSWER TO A PLAIN QUESTION —After maligning the administration and sneering at every measure adopted to suppress the rebellion—after declaring that Mr Lincoln is as much a traitor to his country and the Constitution as Jeff Davis is—after doing the utmost to destroy public confidence in the honest and patriotic conduct of the war—after espousing with fierce ardor the cause of every rebel sympathizer and abettor in the North—after declaring that there is more respect for personal rights under the sway of the rebellion than under the Government of the United States —after denouncing the war as wicked and a fratricidal and frankly declaring that they are striving to restore a party [illegible] to be a Democratic party in power—after doing all that Davis himself would have done and exactly in the way that he would direct the Copperheads turn upon loyal citizens of the United States and with an air of injured dignity demand to know whether there is any question about their loyalty

No not at all No man at the North or South has any doubt upon the subject A[illegible] a [illegible] woman of the town to a gentleman who had made some remarks in her hearing do you mean to insinuate that there is the least doubt of my virtue?

Not the least, Madam was his satisfactory reply.

TIT FOR TAT —The essence of abolitionism— Believe as I do or you are a traitor —Louisville Democrat

The essence of secessionism— Believe as I do or you are an abolitionist —Louisville Journal

THE THREE TURRETED REBEL IRONCLADS FOR SEA —The following is taken from a letter from London in the N Y Herald It is dated August 10th

In my last letter dated from Liverpool I informed you that the first of the great rebel turreted rams was nearly completed She was launched earlier than I expected and is now on the graving dock at Liverpool completely plated with her masts and boilers in and on board and also a large part of her machinery It is expected to have her ready for sea by the 18th of August

Her consort was launched on the [illegible] day of August as well as the other and both will be ready to sail from the Mersey by the 1st of September You see that I was not wrong when months ago I informed you that these rebel ironclads would be ready just in September I hope now the eyes are off the eyes of the venerable Secretary of the Navy and that he is making due preparations to receive these formidable engines of destruction I cannot see from my standpoint that anything has been done to counteract the dreadful calamity awaiting you

To be frank unless the most strenuous efforts are made you will have in the Newport News tragedy enacted in the waters of your own beautiful bay terrible scenes will transpire under your own windows The speed of these vessels will be greater than any of your iron clads, and of course, if not early prevented they will end all, at doing all the harm they can

It is generally supposed here that the blockading squadrons will be their first prey but my own impression is and it is founded on a good basis that a dash at New York will be made and I have no hesitation in saying, and that from a long experience in gunnery and ships that with these three iron clads in broad daylight, they could enter New York harbor by the way of Sandy Hook and burn and destroy all your ships of war, in the dock and afloat and dockyards and then pass out by the way of the Sound without receiving any material damage These assertions are strong but none the less true

What is your Government about? What are the people about? What is the press about? Cannot you do something toward rousing them to a sense of their impending danger? Your fleets your towns and your cities are in danger You may avert it by instant measures, and even then it will only be a palliation for, as far as I can see these vessels will have complete control of your coast until the Puritan and Dictator are fitted out and that will be several months

The rebels here are in great glee in anticipation of the intended movements of these ships The London Times correspondent writing from Richmond says "The Yankee fleet will make themselves scarce off the blockaded ports after September I have done my duty in this serious matter and trust the Government will do theirs in time

THE TRUE PURPOSE OF THE WAR —When the Administration perverted this war into an anti slavery crusade it threw off from the National cause the great body of the large slaveholders who contrary to the general opinion at the North, were like Gov Aiken in favor of the Union and against secession —Albany Argus

This charge is equally unjust unfounded and mischievous There has been no such perversion as the Argus alleges, nor [illegible] there be Slavery may die as a consequence of the war It will be a just retribution if it shall But that has in no official form been avowed as the purpose of the war

Nor is there any evidence that "the great body of the large slaveholders were in favor of the Union" at any time after the war began Some doubtless were, but the fact that Gov Aiken's case is cited as an extraordinary one, the inference is natural that "the great body of slaveholders" were not in sympathy with him

Instead of persistently 'perverting' the purpose of the Administration, would it not result in greater good if the Argus should assume what facts justify, that the war is prosecuted for the single purpose of restoring the Union? The rebellion will be crushed in spite of these mischievous misrepresentations, but the desired result could be more easily and much more speedily accomplished if all professing loyalty acted loyally —Evening Journal

A SECESSIONIST WIDOW ON THE FALL OF SUMTER —A letter from Saratoga says

"A sensation was produced at Congress Hall at dinner time, lately The Troy telegraph operator sent over a dispatch that 'Sumter is ours' When dinner was about half through a man arose and read the dispatch, amid intense excitement and cheers that lasted some minutes Some peace Democrats were intensely disgusted—wanted to know what right these noisy men had to disturb the quiet disposition of gentlemen at dinner by such a noisy demonstration At one of the tables sat a lady, with two daughters, who passes for a widow, but as she is evidently a secessionist —for rebellion is like 'the ointment of the right hand beneath itself'—it is more than suspected that she has a husband in the rebel army She was especially indignant—supposed there would be a great fuss in all the North —and as cheers continued for Gilmore Dahlgren and other eminent men she took her brood under her wing and left the table How long would Jeff Davis allow a Lincoln woman to sit at a Richmond table?'

HOW LINCOLNITES SHOULD BE TREATED —The following is from the Knoxville (Tenn) Register

There are some Lincolnites among the residents of this place They should at once be arrested and sent beyond our lines The same course should be pursued everywhere We have no use for such persons While they are permitted to remain among us Lincoln will have plenty of spies and informers It is no use to cherish and treat kindly vipers that will bite us if they have an opportunity Parties suspected of Lincolnism should have been driven from our midst long ago It is not too late to take action now It is but a simple act of justice to pursue such a course and in justice to ourselves we ought to pursue it No sane man should allow a cut throat and a robber to be at large if he knew it Why then allow Lincolnites to reside at the South unmolested watching as they are to do us harm whenever a chance offers No man who is known to favor Lincolnism in the least should be allowed to reside unmolested at the South

[The "Lincolnites" of Knoxville probably administered the above dose to the rebels as Burnside now occupies the place —Ed S F Bulletin]

A London paper gets off the following Brown in a railway carriage the other day going in for Colenso, hit upon the case of Nebuchadnezzar argued that it was utterly absurd and impossible for a man so to forget his human instincts as to eat grass like a beast and asked the opinion of his fellow traveler "Verily friend," quoth a Quaker "I see no great improbability in the story if he was as great an ass as thou

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to September 24.

NEW YORK Sept 24 —The Times special says Meade's cavalry and part of his infantry are on the South side of the Rapidan The cavalry penetrated to Orange Court House, without meeting [illegible] guns of rebels The rebels have retired from Gordonsville

[illegible] with his own and Kilpatrick's cavalry occupied Madison Court House last night the village was deserted by nearly all the male inhabitants A few pickets were taken

[illegible] Mountains, which day before yesterday was occupied as a rebel signal station, is now in our possession Clark Mountain and [illegible] the left of Culpepper is still held by the rebels Nearly all the male inhabitants of Culpepper have been arrested and are now held by the Provost Marshal

A special dispatch to the Times says Hooker left Washington on the 14th for Burnside to reinforce Rosecrans He could not possibly reach him before the 17th as he was then at Jonesboro where he expected an encounter with Longstreet's reinforcements going to Bragg He could not therefore reach Chattanooga 150 miles distant to meet an attack before the 20th

A Norfolk Va letter in the Tribune says Foster has been at Charleston within a few days and the probabilities are he will superintend the final struggle at Chattanooga

FORTRESS MONROE Sept 24th —The Richmond Whig to day reports three days hard fighting in Northern Georgia with heavy loss on both sides The Confederate loss 5 000 Among the killed are Generals Smith Woolford Waltham Helm, Deshler and Wood

ATLANTA GA Sept 22 —The fight is still going on We have every confidence that the enemy will be driven from his present stand at Mission Ridge six miles from Chattanooga In the three days fight the enemy has been driven 11 miles to the position now held by him The Whig editorially speaks of affairs at Chattanooga despondingly

CHATTANOOGA Sept 22d —No attack was made by the rebels though one was expected to day Our position has been mostly strengthened by additional works commanding the approaches from the South while our flanks and communications are amply cared for — The only demonstration to day was by heavy columns of infantry and artillery on our left which crossed Mission Ridge toward Ringgold, without replying to our artillery It is believed a movement is intended to intercept Burnside

Second Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept 24 —Gold 37 Government Stocks firm

A special dispatch to the Post says, official advices from Rosecrans army say there is no indications of another battle The rebel losses on Saturday and Sunday are characterized as tremendous

CINCINNATI Sept 24th —The New York Herald correspondent arrived to night from Chickamauga He was on the field and witnessed the two days fight and says the Army of the Cumberland has met with a defeat which must put it on the defensive for some time to come Thomas corps was really the only one that did any fighting On the first day it defeated Longstreet with horrible slaughter, driving him with great confusion a mile across the Chickamauga Longstreet in the two hour fight, lost 1,000 killed and double that number wounded Generals McCook and Crittenden's corps on the same day were beaten The enemy broke our centre driving Crittenden in every direction The defeat of this part of the line caused Thomas to abandon his position and fall back to re-establish his lines The rebels not aware of what they had accomplished, failed to pursue the advantage gained, and Wood and Negley went in our centre and re-established that part of our line the day was ours though the enemy held the field We took six pieces of artillery more than we lost the first day Thomas defeated Longstreet on the second day and saved Rosecrans from annihilation From 10 to 12 o'clock on Sunday he fought the enemy and repulsed him in three successive charges, when finding his assaults in vain, the enemy charged on the right and centre and at the first charge broke Crittenden and McCook's line, driving them into Rossville and Chattanooga Thomas corps still held the mountain, and was enabled through the timely reinforcement of Granger, to hold his position until nightfall covered his retreat to Rossville This correspondent was in the field till 7 o'clock Sunday evening and at Chattanooga till Monday noon Rosecrans was falling back on Chattanooga where he would be perfectly safe from all Bragg could do His lines of communication were perfectly secure and he had plenty of ammunition and provisions at Chattanooga for a month's siege The result he says has been bad for us, as we have lost tremendously in material—not less than fifty pieces of artillery having fallen into the hands of the enemy The rebel loss in killed and wounded exceed ours—in killed, double ours Rosecrans is in no danger, but at the time the correspondent left Chattanooga Burnside was in imminent danger

WASHINGTON Sept 24th —The Richmond Sentinel of yesterday says Accounts from Bragg's army so far, are proof of entire success in that quarter The battles of Saturday and Sunday were not conclusive though it is claimed that the advantage was on the rebel side

The Enquirer says the battle commenced 8 miles from Ringgold, and on the 20th Rosecrans was driven two miles by the combined charges of Hill and Polk The Federal artillery fire was heavier than any during the war It also states that on Saturday Hood's division of Longstreet's corps was repulsed A dispatch of Sunday says our forces fell back 8 miles and the rebel loss was 5,000 killed and wounded in the two days fight the proportion of officers being great The same paper claims that the rebels took 2,000 prisoners and 7 pieces of artillery on Saturday A heavy smoke at night indicated that Rosecrans was burning his stores Another telegram dated Sunday says a combined attack by Hill and Longstreet was made on Sunday A dispatch from Atlanta Ga, reports 4 000 Federal prisoners taken and claims a complete Confederate victory with a large capture of troops and artillery but with heavy loss on their side in officers and men Governor Harris of Tennessee in a dispatch to the Appeal on Sunday night says the two days fight had no decisive results He estimates the Federal prisoners taken at 2,500 with 30 pieces of artillery A telegram from him on Monday 21st says the Confederate victory is complete

NEW YORK Sept 24th —A dispatch from Rosecrans headquarters dated last night says I can't be dislodged from my present position Another dispatch from one of Rosecrans staff written 11-40 last night says there was fighting to day

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA —Watts, the newly elected Governor of Alabama, is an old line Whig The defeat of Governor Shorter secession candidate is regarded as a significant indication of public sentiment in that State in favor of the Union

ARTEMUS WARD —Artemus Ward sends a circular to the Boston Post which is as humorous if not as voluminous as those of Fry

(Circular No 78)

As the undersigned has been led to fear that the law regulating the draft was not wholly understood notwithstanding the numerous explanatory circulars that have been issued from the National Capitol of late he hereby issues a circular of his own and if he shall succeed in making the [illegible] more clear to a discerning public, he will feel that he has not lived in vain

1 Any young man who is drafted and inadvertently goes to Canada where he becomes embroiled with a ridiculous English party who knocks him around so as to disable him for life the same occurring in a licensed bar room on British soil such young man cannot receive a pension on account of said injuries from the United States Government, nor can his heirs or creditors

2 No drafted man in going to the appointed rendezvous will be permitted to go round by way of Canada, on account of the roads being better by that way or because his uncle William lives there

3 Any gentleman living in Ireland who was never in this country is not liable to the draft nor are our fathers This latter statement is made for the benefit of the enrolling officers who have acted on the supposition that the able bodied male population of a place included gentlemen in cemeteries

4 The term of enlistment is for three years but any man who may have been drafted in two places has a right to go for that length of time or not—a right the department hopes he will insist on

5 The only son of a poor widow, whose husband is in California, is not exempt, but the man who owns stock in the Vermont Central Railroad is So also are incessant lunatics habitual lecturers persons who were born with wooden legs or false teeth Blind men (unless they acknowledge they can see it), and people who deliberately voted for John Tyler

6 No drafted man can claim exemption on the ground that he has several children whom he supports and who do not bear his name or live in the same house with him and who has never been introduced to his wife but who on the contrary are endowed with various mothers and live around" A W

AN INNOCENT MYSTIFIED —Says the Providence (R I) Journal

A rural conscript appeared before the Eastern Board of Enrollment a day or two since, and desired to be exempted forthwith, that he might return to his country home

What are your claims? demanded the doctor

I'm entirely dependent upon my mother for support was the innocent reply

Whereupon the doctor, while a smile faintly illumined the face of the Board, said I am happy to assure you my honest hearted friend, that the Government is prepared at once to relieve your mother of so unsuitable a burden and assume your entire charge and expense during the next three years, without the slightest recourse to the maternal font for support or succor'

The young draftee appeared a little bewildered, and referred to the papers to ascertain what was the matter "

The following gentlemen have been appointed enrolling officers by the Provost Marshal Wm Porter of Marion, A R McConnell Benton, Capt John Smith, Linn, Wm Grant, Polk P W Gillette, Clatsop C H Davidson, Tillamook, Nathan Olney Wasco, W H Haley Lane C W Savage, Jackson —Statesman

REVENUE FROM STAMPS —California is paying a vast revenue into the national treasury by reason of her mining operations All the shares in copper silver and other mines have to be stamped, and there are so many thousands of them being issued and transferred daily—when they have to be restamped—that the annual sum thus paid for the support of the Government will be enormous And it is a good mode of collecting revenue Those who pay it thus feel it not.—Bee

WHAT A CHANGE —The Government is compelled to issue rations to a majority of the families between Black river and Vicksburg It is an amusing as well as a melancholy spectacle to see the "patriotic" ladies, whose special mission it was two years ago to "fire the heart of the Southern youth," and whose mad devotion to the cause of the rebellion was the theme of the poet and statesman of rebellion, drawing their rations from the commissary—accepting the bounty of the "vandals —and socially discussing with our officers the necessity of peace and the folly of resistance

LEGAL QUESTION —The question of the everlasting darkey is now up in our courts in the following shape A colored man sues two others, of the same race, for services rendered The case came up for hearing in the Justice's court and defendants interposed the plea that under the Constitution of Oregon, negroes are ineligible to citizenship, and hence can neither sue nor be sued The Justice Dogberry of the court, has taken the question under consideration —Mountaineer

THE FASHION — 'Jennie June,' discoursing of fashions says the scarlet cloth talmas and circulars have obtained a rage as great as that of the white bonnet Feathers are to be the most distinguished ornament of stylish bonnets for the coming winter, and already there is a great demand for and a terrible scarcity of brilliant scarlet plumes

THE PRODIGAL SON —A preacher in Illinois, giving a familiar account of the Prodigal Son's return dwelt touchingly upon the father's circumstances when he saw his son "afar off," thus The son had not yet sunk beneath the western horizon There in his easy chair before the door, sits the aged father reading the papers

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—United States vs. Connor—Indictment for detaining three letters. A demurrer to the indictment was argued and overruled. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and the cause was tried and submitted to the jury, after arguments by Page for the Government, and Holbrook, Gibbs & Hill for defendant. The jury, after an absence of two hours and a half, returned a verdict of guilty upon two counts and not guilty upon the other count of the indictment. Mr. Holbrook, counsel for defendant, made a motion for a new trial, also in arrest of judgment.

A. E. Wait was admitted to practice as an attorney in this Court.

McCORMICK'S ALMANAC.—We are indebted to the publisher, Mr. S. J. McCormick, for a copy of his Almanac for Oregon, Washington and Idaho Territories, for the year 1864—this being the tenth year of its publication. It contains much valuable information, and it should be in every house.

PACKING APPLES.—We notice quite a number of speculators in our city, engaged in packing winter apples. We are told that a large lot is soon to be shipped to the Sandwich Islands and China.

THEATER.—The thrilling play of "Love, or the Countess and the Serf," was performed to a delighted audience. Mrs. Hayne, as the Countess, seemed to transcend her former efforts here, and the continued applause which greeted her, showed the satisfaction of those present. Miss Mitchell, as the Empress, performed her part well, while Mr. Waldron, as Huon, can't be beat. To-night, the old and favorite play of "Ingomar, the Barbarian," will commence the performance, to be followed by a dance by Miss Gillespie, songs by Reeves and Sinclair, and to conclude with a favorite farce. This is a good bill.

SUPREME COURT.—We are indebted to the Statesman for the following Supreme Court report:

The following cases in the Supreme Court have been decided:

Jas. F. Anderson, respondent, vs. Jas. H. Russell et. al, appellants, Jackson county.—Judgment affirmed.

J. A. Burke, et. al. appellants, vs. Walter R. Davis, respondent, Wasco county—Judgment affirmed.

J. H. Lovedale, et. al. appellants, vs. S. Coffin, et al respondents, Multnomah county—stricken off docket.

Jesse Hamlin, et. al. respondents, vs. Thomas Kinney et al. appellants, Jackson county—judgment reversed.

Joseph Bolton, respondent, vs. H. Olmstead et. al. appellant, Multnomah county—judgment affirmed, with five per cent. damages against Olmstead and sureties.

L. Scheberg, respondent, vs Daniel Carland et. al. appellants, Douglas county—judgment affirmed.

Henry Cermann & Co., appellants, vs. S. Davis, et. al. respondents, Curry county—judgment affirmed.

Lloyd Brook, respondent, vs. W. E. Cooper, appellant, Multnomah county—judgment affirmed.

David Lisa respondent, vs. W. A. Williams, et. al. appellants, Jackson county—judgment below modified.

J. J. Waldron, treasurer Wasco Co., appellant, vs. John Brown et. al. respondents, Wasco Co—judgment reversed.

J. Wickersham, et. al. respondents, vs. Geo. Barry, et. al. appellants, Baker county—judgment affirmed.

Geo. Coakllo, respondent, vs. James Johnson, appellant, Washington county—dismissed at cost of appellant.

Elijah Chaney, appellant, vs. R. A. Gray, et al, respondents, Jackson county—judgment affirmed.

Rogue River Bridge Company, appellant, vs. Rock Point Bridge Co., respondents, Jackson Co.—judgment affirmed.

E. E. Lord, appellant, vs. Jas. Wright, et al, respondents, Douglas Co.—so modified, judgment in favor of appellant.

W. Allen, et al, appellants, vs. Benj. Holliday, respondent, Multnomah county—judgment reversed.

Adolph Cohn, appellant, vs Holland & White, respondents, county—judgment affirmed.

T. Batten, respondent, vs. G. W. Vaughn, appellant, county—judgment affirmed with ten per cent. damages against Vaughn.

respondents, vs. Henry Engle, et al, county—judgment affirmed.

J. P. O. L., administrator, respondent, vs. Stephen Coffin, et al, appellants, Multnomah county—judgment reversed and case sent back for further proceedings.

vs Coos county, respondent, vs. Board Curry county, appellant—motion to reinstate denied.

J. J. B. Ritchie, respondents, vs. Arthur Fahie, appellant, county—judgment reversed.

Remarkable Cure.

BRESH, Missouri Co., Mo., Oct. 9, 1852.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & CO.—In reply to inquiries as to the efficacy of your DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, justice requires me to state that, having at times been attacked by a violent contraction of the muscles of the legs, I experienced immediate relief by taking at each time a swallow of the Pain Panacea direct from the bottle. It is rather a tough remedy, but I have always found the smarting of the Panacea a very happy exchange for the excruciating pains attending cramp in the limbs.

Your obedient servant,

SAMUEL HENDRY.

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in Jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

READ, MOTHERS, READ!—How many a mother has waked up at MIDNIGHT AND FOUND HER CHILD BREATHING HARD, ATTENDED WITH PECULIAR WHISTLING OR BARKING COUGH, which would be relieved by the use of DR. WM. The Rebellion and the Draft

GERRITT SMITH'S SPEECH AT ALBANY, N. Y.

Mr Smith opened his speech by asking the question What is it to go for our country? Emphatically it is not to say to go for our country when she is all right and her [illegible] are all wrong. [illegible] for her is to go for all her dominions—to be unconditional—to love her with that Jewish love for Jerusalem which took pleasure even in her stones and favored the dust thereof. He who is not [illegible] [illegible] up a party [illegible] of slavery. To go for our country is not to go for her chosen form of government—[illegible]—not to praise for it or to affect regard for it, but for the very purpose of aiding the enemy. [illegible] for its great principle of justice, liberty and equality. But the most effective way to go for our country is to go against her enemies. We must stand by the Government. Not to stand by the Government is not to stand by the country. The Government represents the country, and the representative is strong, pure and patriotic men. The President (for whom I did not vote), is a pure and intelligent man. Washington always excepted, we never had a President more to be honored and more to be loved than Abraham Lincoln. Whatever is pro-slavery in his character is the result of early education—for which no man is accountable. You may not have detected this defect as I have, for your thoughts have not like mine been concentrated on this one subject these twenty or thirty years. The evidence I have found in his recent retaliatory proclamation. In that proclamation he says, "For every Union soldier taken and sold into slavery, one rebel prisoner shall be put to compulsory labor on the public works." But this is no due offset, for compulsory labor is not slavery. The minor and the apprentice are subjected to compulsory labor. The great calamity of the slave is that he is deprived of the protection of law, and thrust down to the level of the brute. But a man put to compulsory labor on the public works is still under the protection of law. How could the President have fallen into such a mistake? For every Federal soldier sold into slavery, at least a thousand rebels should be put to compulsory labor, to render the retaliation equivalent.

But I said we must stand by the Government. The man who says the Government has changed the purpose of the war, utters a wicked slander. No wonder there are mobs when men in high positions utter the slander, that the war is now waged to abolish slavery. The object of the war is to secure the unconditional submission of the rebels—without armistice or terms. To buy them off with concessions would dishonor the nation. No other nation would respect us. If compelled to yield, we might hope for both sympathy and respect, but to dishonorably succumb would be enduring disgrace.

We must not idly discuss what we will do with the rebels and their property when we conquer them—Such speculations are pernicious and only tend to divide loyal men. It will be time enough to discuss these questions when the enemy is conquered. Besides, no man can to-day say what should be done with them. If they come back haughty and still of a rebellious spirit, one course of action will be necessary; while, if they show an humble spirit, another course of action will be proper. We can then afford to be generous.

We must, also, insist, that, during the prosecution of this war, all other nations must let us alone. Ours is a family quarrel with which there must be no outside interference. We will not tolerate either intervention or mediation. The one we shall pronounce impertinence, while the other shall be construed into war.

I have said, we must insist on the unconditional submission of the rebels. Our opposition to the rebels must also be unconditional. We must make no conditions on behalf of the Republican, Democratic or Abolition parties. We must make no conditions. If the rebellion triumphs let all else die—for all, family, wealth, party—all would be worth less without a country. The rebellion must be put down at whatever cost, whatever sacrifice. The Republican, or Democrat, who is intent only on helping his party, is in league with rebels. Are there abolitionists who will not go for crushing treason unless the Government shall pledge itself to prosecute the war until slavery is abolished? Let me say to them, I have no sympathy with you. I know you only as enemies of my country. The true doctrine is—let come what may of temperance, of abolitionism, of Republicanism, of Democracy, the rebellion must and shall be put down. It is not now put down, only because we have not been as earnest in putting it down as the rebels have been in putting it up. We are, in this war, to be brothers. We are to know no man by his party name, but only as anti-rebellion men. In the course of my long life I have had to do something against intemperance and slavery; but since the bombardment of Sumter, I have been ready to work with all against rebellion—to work, if you please, with the greatest drunkard on my right, and the greatest pro-slavery man on my left. If abolitionists refuse to work with me, without some pledge for the abolition of slavery, it is little to their credit that they allow the sin of slavery to blind their eyes to the greater sin of rebellion. If, as some say, slavery and rebellion are one, then put down the rebellion, and slavery falls with it.

Mr S. proceeded, at length, to speak of his veneration for the Constitution, but of his greater veneration for the country, arguing that it is better to have the country than the Constitution, even; for the country can never be re-animated, while the Constitution could be.

Gov. Seymour had said that the North had annoyed the South by talking against slavery. But talk is no justification for war. Our Government tolerates talk even against better things than slavery—if anything better can be imagined! But you legislated against slavery. Very well, perhaps so. But has not the South legislated unconstitutionally in favor of slavery? But for both North and South, there was the open door of the Supreme Court. The South, however, preferred war to that tribunal. Dwelling upon this point at length, Mr S. said he had spoken somewhat disparagingly of one idea men. But I would we were all one idea men in the sense of putting down the rebellion. I would not allow any other idea to interpose. Then we should conquer—conquer speedily—conquer grandly.

Now, I wish to say a word on the draft, and the Conscription act under which the draft is made. It is held that the Constitution does not give Congress the power to compel men to join our armies, and drive back and subdue those who are seeking the life blood of the nation. Why, then, does it mock Congress with the power to declare war, raise armies and create navies? It seems to give much power, while in fact it is only a source of weakness. But it has the right. It could not be a National Legislature without it. Of course, I am glad the Constitution recognizes the right, but it don't create it. The right is older than the Constitution—it inheres in every nation. The Constitution no more creates the right, than the Bible creates the right of a parent to govern and correct his child. The one is an inherent parental right, the other an inherent national right.

But the people tell us that the law is oppressive to the poor. The State Militia law is oppressive to the poor, but the National Conscription law saves the poor. Under the State law many minor officials are exempt; under the National law only the President and Vice-President, heads of Executive Departments, the Judiciary and the Governors of the States, and these in the main would naturally be exempt by reason of their age. In addition, none but the poor are exempt. Let us look at the exemptions. [The speaker here alluded to the different classes of persons exempt by reason of having dependent relatives, and then proceeded.]

Now, what think you of stigmatizing this law as oppressive to the poor? Did you ever see a law so tender of the poor, so mercilessly unsparing of the rich? I never have.

But it is said that three hundred dollar clause—that three hundred dollar clause! You surely will not be so impudent as to claim that that does not oppress the poor? I will be so impudent. [Applause.] There is no provision of the law so merciful to the poor. Were there no commutation clause in the law, the price of a substitute would run up three, four and five times that fixed by this clause. That would put exemption out of the reach of every poor man, even though he had friends willing to aid him. With the clause as it is a large number of the poor may commute, either from their own unaided resources, or by the aid of their friends. But you say we cannot let you off this way.

If the Government desired to serve the poor, why did it not place the price of commutation at say $50? Because with that money it could not have obtained substitutes, and consequently repeated drafts would have been necessary. This would have resulted very disastrously to the poor. It would have ended in the final drafting of every man who could not raise $50; and, if the Government had not then men enough, it would have to go without. I have heard men say that all ought to be compelled to go who are drafted. Such comments are ill-timed and illy considered. There are many among the poor and the rich who ought not to go. Where necessary, let the poor man stay at home and attend to his family, and the rich man remain to keep his factory in operation, that those who are home may have employment; that the country may [illegible] continue prosperous, and its wealth [illegible] that there may be something [illegible] carry on the war.

The speaker next alluded to the [illegible] the Conscription law, and the demand of Governor Seymour in his letter to the President that the draft be suspended and its constitutionality tested. The country could not afford such suspension. Men were needed, and we must assume the constitutionality of this law the same as every other. [illegible] who desire to test it, but in the meantime the draft must go on. The law must be enforced because it is a law for the salvation of the country. [Applause.] Governor Seymour makes the great question to be whether the law is constitutional, while I make the great question to be whether we have patriotism enough among us to carry it out. [Applause.] Had there never been [illegible] patriotic breast, there never would have been a question raised as to the constitutionality of this law. [Applause.] Was there ever anything so shameless as to see people—when rebels in arms are stalking up to their very doors intent on the disruption of their country and the overthrow of its institutions—to see them sneaking up to the Constitution and poring over its provisions that they may find some way by which they can constitutionally avoid doing anything for its protection? [Applause.]

The speaker further alluded to the [illegible] veneration for the Constitution professed by [illegible], and expressed his own devotion to it, believing [illegible] did not stand in the way of a [illegible] prosecution of the war until the rebels are unconditionally [illegible]. The action of New York and [illegible] in voting to buy off their quota and thus deprive the country of the men it needed, was condemned. The taxing of small estates was condemned, and the principle of taxing surplus capital sufficient to meet all expenses of the Government strongly urged. The income tax—against which there has been so much grumbling—should be doubled.

The severity of the rebel conscription and the lightness of our own was admitted, [illegible] action of demagogues in inciting opposition to it strongly denounced. Such demagogues are often as silly as they are weak. They are silly enough to think the Government will depart from its purpose to crush the rebellion, from fear of their threats. Even the Governor called on the President to stop the draft. He thought he had found out his mistake by this. [Applause.] The necessity of educating the people to more fervent loyalty and love of country [illegible] alluded to, and the example of Greece, Rome [illegible] &c., commended. If that love of country [illegible] that should, men would not be found comparing every line of the law with the letter of the Constitution, to see if it technically agreed. No, we would only consider what is best for the preservation of unity.

The speaker closed with an eloquent appeal to Love to Country, which was received with loud and prolonged applause.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, Mass., 20th Dec., 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints.
EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, [illegible]
SPRINGFIELD, [illegible]
BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, [illegible]

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, Ia., writes, [illegible]: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and [illegible]
WEST MANCHESTER, Pa., [illegible]
SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.
HENRY L. [illegible]

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, [illegible]
DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of [illegible]

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic [illegible]

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul St[illegible], [illegible]tion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
